

AMUSEMENTS

A SOUTHERN GENTLEMAN.

Take and comfort with life in a mild climate professed a type of man in the old south never before known of men. Gentleman born in France having certain characteristics which may be recognized anywhere. The intention is easily detected, too. But the old south was a kingdom grown out of its own seed, not an ancient kingdom established by a conqueror, but a kingdom of penal hospitality spring from sunshine and devotion to duty. Its subjects delighted in hospitality, reverence women, and were led to elegance in conversation and deportment. The cause of slavery was a silent chain which they considered as sublimation, rather than a disgrace. In their own homes they were princely in entertainment and a guest was esteemed above all others. Anything on the plantation was his without the asking. He was not required to conform to the customs of the household, but was bid to come and go as he pleased, to eat and drink as little or as much as he liked and at those hours which suited his habits or inclinations.

The Southern Gentleman is one of the four plays which Mr. Clement announces in his repertoire this season, at which he is the author, and the others are The New Dominion, Sam Houston, and The Law of the Trail.

In Hamilton Roads is also his dramatization of Charles Eugene Bank's and George C. Cook's stirring war novel of that name.

The Law of the Trail is the latest of Mr. Clement's plays, he having written it during the last year. It will be produced this season, and those who have heard it read anticipate a high place for it among the American dramas of the virile type. The scenes are laid in Alaska, but the story deals with the passions developed in the frozen north under the heart-breaking vicissitudes of a journey across the trail into the great gold fields. The characters consist of men and women who make up one company of gold seekers and keep the story closely connected and flowing.

Mr. Clement in this season supported by a most capable company of actors and his plays are staged with great care and detail. Such a character Mr. Clay Clement has introduced in his play, A Southern Gentleman. There are only a few of them left alive, more the pity, for they were a soothing color in the rather pronounced warp and twist of America civilization and the lone one not well be spared. It was a happy idea of the author to present the type in dramatic literature. Mr. Clement himself assumes the role of the southern gentleman, and his portrayal is said to be ideal. The play holds an interesting and graphic story and abounds in dainty imagery and poetic expressions. One passage in particular, the speech of "selfishness" is accounted by critics to equal the famous flower speech in the same author's play of The New Dominion. "It is to be questioned whether Mr. Clement," says one, "has accurately denominated the speech of selfishness by the word. But granted his promise, the argument is logical and convincing. The language musical, the thought pure and chaste, the conclusion dramatic and the whole speech a series of hyperboles of fine imagery and rapid movement."

The company will appear at the Edmonton opera house next week.

Mr. Robert Gaultier's appearance in his handsome musical and dramatic sketches should be largely attended and patronized by the people of Edmonton. He is considered the foremost English entertainer and has had the honor to appear before their majesties the King and Queen of England, the King and Queen of Denmark and many other royalties and nobles. He accompanied the late Right Hon. W. E. Gladstone on his voyage to South Africa on "The Tantalus," and is also intimately acquainted with other states who have added to their name in that country namely Lord Roberts and Lord Kitchener. He will give his entertainment at the Separate School hall on Saturday and Monday, March 11th and 12th. Reserved seats can be obtained at Latta's Drug Store. His entertainment can be readily enjoyed by young and old and we trust Edmontonians will show their appreciation of this distinguished artist's visit by a large attendance. He will be assisted by Miss Hazel Stawson of the Court Theatre, London and Miss Elsie Pearson.

STRATHCONA NEWS

NARROW ESCAPE OF NEW CHURCH.

The handsome new Methodist church at Strathcona had a narrow escape from being destroyed by fire on Sunday night before the congregation had gathered for the evening session. The night was cold and an unusual amount of heat was put on the furnace covered the result that a wooden partition took fire and before it was discovered the woodwork was a mass of flames. The fire was quickly discovered and with the aid of a few buckets of water was extinguished. Had the fire taken place at an earlier hour when there was no person around the building there is little doubt but that the interior of the church would have been badly gutted as the new material is very inflammable.

KITCHEN WINS TROPHY.

The final game for the club trophy in the Strathcona Curling Club was played yesterday afternoon at the rink between James Kitchen and Edmund T. Baines. The former won by a score of 12 to 10. The series which has been closely contested from start to finish is for a trophy purchased by means of subscriptions from all members participating. This contest will practically bring to a close the curling for this year.

The teams that met yesterday in the finale were made up as follows—

—Skip, 12 —Skip, 10

AMATEURS PLAY HOCKEY.

One of the most spectacular hockey matches of the season took place at the Strathcona skating rink last night between two teams of local business men who for the first time indulged in the festive winter sport. The captains were Jack Fargyle and Dr. Fuller, and the line-ups were as follows:

Fargyle's team.

J. M. Wilby

R. J. Walker

Don McKinnon

Dr. May

Jack Forsythe G. Davison

A. Appleton Dr. Fuller Elmo Essey

Wat Johnson

F. Beaudet

J. B. Miller

[T. V. C. McElroy]

Fuller's team.

The game was hot and furious from start to finish and many penalties were imposed. At half time the score was 1 to 1 for Dr. Fuller's team, and at the close they led by 7 to 5. The referee was Norman Elliot and the judge of play Scotty McLeod.

LOCALS.

The regular weekly meeting of the Strathcona city council takes place this evening. The question of the grant for the exhibit at Calgary will likely be the most important matter up for consideration. The board of health will also recommend that a grant be made.

The young people of the Baptist church will pay a fraternal visit to the Y. P. A. of the First Baptist church, Edmonton, next Monday evening. This is the first of a number of visits that will take place during the next few months.

A disagreement is still existing between the Strathcona Coal Mine Co. and a number of the miners who have been employed. The work of the mine, however, has not been tied up, those going on strike having been replaced by new men.

Yesterday was the last day allowed by the city for the payment of arrears in electric light rates. The authorities announce that where arrears are not now paid the light will be disconnected.

A large number of immigrants have arrived within the past two weeks at the immigration hall and that building is now well filled. The immigrants are met at the train by Immigrant Agent John Fraser.

$75,000 OF DEBENTURES.

Hat By-Laws For Waterworks, Gas and Market Building Carried.

Medicine Hat, March 12.—Three by-laws were voted upon yesterday authorizing an issue of debentures, which aggregated seventy-five thousand dollars. The by-laws were all carried, and the sums will be expended as follows: Forty thousand for the extension of waterworks, twenty-five thousand for the extension of the gas system, and ten thousand for the erection of a market building. Little or no opposition was developed against the waterworks or gas by-laws, but the market building by-law only received twelve of the total vote polled. Its resolution was voted a was laid, and Hamilton Morrow was elected over Robert McCutchen as chairman by a majority of 28.

MEN WANTED ON LANDS BUT NOT IN THE TOWNS

Canada Wants More Settlers, Says
Immigration Commissioner Smith,
Interviewed in London. But They Must Be the Right Sort.

The London (England) Daily News, received in today's mails has the following interesting report of an interview with J. O. Smith, the former Dominion immigration commissioner at Winnipeg, who has reached London to take up the work of his new office.

"Send us ten thousand men tomorrow, and we'll find them all work." "The man who made that remark to me in Canada a little more than two years ago (writes a Daily News representative) stood before me as a man of great confidence as ever in the possibilities of the west. At our first meeting he came on board the Allan liner Victoria, at Quebec, as emigration agent, and went up stream with me to Manitoba. Yesterday he began his new duties as chief of the Dominion's emigration office in London, England. It was there we met.

"Mr. J. O. Smith remembered our previous meeting, and when I asked whether Canada still wanted ten thousand men from England, he made no answer.

"On the land, yes. In the towns, Canada does not want a man from either England or any other country."

"Your own unemployed problem has become acute."

"Not so much in the big towns as in the little ones. There is a shortage of work. Many of the men out of work this winter could get good work here if they could to leave the towns and go on to farms."

"Certainly. On our own books in the government immigration office at Winnipeg we were aware of vacancies on farms up country which the unemployed would not just accept."

"No town wants them. They stop at town waiting rooms and go on to farms."

"Unless they show a willingness and especially for going on the land," returned Mr. Smith. "Our difficulty is to keep emigrants out of the cities. The only class of emigrants we want in Canada is the hard worker. We guarantee to get work for every emigrant who is willing and able to go on to a farm."

"That does not include English town dwellers?"

"Not at all. We only insist that he shall not become a Canadian town dweller. We ask him to become a Canadian farmer. Many of the men from English towns become successful settlers here."

"You mean the ones who came to Canada in 1914?"

"Yes, that is true. That class of men, only emigrants with a certificate will be granted when we are satisfied that the emigrant is likely to make a useful settler."

"Certified Emigrants."

"So that you will have fewer deportees?"

"No. That is an advantage. A man with a certificate has a better chance of success than a man who has no certificate."

"You mean the ones who came to Canada in 1914?"

FROM DAY TO DAY

NEWER SONGS OF ERIN.

Without much notice from any outside the world of literature a younger generation of Irish poets, and a younger one producing work typically Irish, yet less in the manner of the old, are making their mark. One of these younger poets is M. J. O'Sullivan, whose exquisite poetry gift could only have been strengthened by a long visit she made a few years ago to a friend's ranch in the foothills of Calgary.

One of a few of these latest songs of Erin as collected in a current number of a well-known magazine—

The Irish Quail.
Tremulous gray of dusk
Repeating itself in the
It is the path that leads
Ever to you.

Child of the dusk, your eyes
Quietly light my way,
Quiet as evening stars,
Quiet and gray.

All the magic of dusk,
Tremulous, gray and blue,
Gathers into my heart
Quiet for you.

—M. J. O'Sullivan.

SLIPPED ON SIDEWALK.

How Zam-Buk Cured a Bad Knee.
Mrs. S. F. Nicholls, 202 Quebec St., Montreal, writes: "While returning home from a shopping trip, I slipped on the icy sidewalk and badly sprained my knee. I had to be assisted to the house where I was laid up for two weeks. My knee was very much swollen and painful. I had the injured knee frequently with liniment, but in the house and they were not much good. I sent for a box of Zam-Buk, as I had used this previously for cuts and burns and knew its value. For three weeks I used the Zam-Buk as an emollient and worked like a charm, taking away all stiffness, swelling and soreness. I am now able to go about all right and have never felt the effects of my accident since."

MONDAY'S GRAIN MARKETS.

Winnipeg, March 16.—The market opened dull and quiet this morning at about the same prices as Saturday and remained so all week. Conditions during the strike day, at the close of which was nervous, the cause of the nervousness being the possibility of the various bag reports which have been received during the past few days. Summing up the despatches received of late, it is very evident that a certain amount of harm has been done by the strike, but there can be no doubt that some of the reports which are flowing in, are premature and exaggerated. Since reports from Oklahoma are fearful, and though they admit the existence of green bugs, there has been no change and no conditions in the state are nearly perfect. It is estimated that the crop in Oklahoma will be about six per cent. less than last year. There was, with the exception of the fact that the bullish reports about the floor today and everything being quiet in the market from the opening. Liverpool responded somewhat to the rise here on Saturday and with the market higher than expected and slightly bullish, with the exception of a few showing an increase, there was every indication that prices would be steady. The market firmed up somewhat about noon, but fell away again before the close, with no time during the day did wheat sell higher than it had been selling at. Trade was light, however, and the market relatively weak on large receipts. Stocks in the local market are again increased, the total increase for the week being 114,094 bushels. There was in store at the end of the week 7,790,130 bushels of wheat, which is a million more than the corresponding period last year. There is a considerable demand for cash wheat and trading in oats was dull.
